Elko Joins Entrex/Private Company Index (PCI)

Richmond, VA / February 26, 2007 --- Elko® Products Company Inc., a building and home products company, has been invited to become a member of the Entrex Private Company Index (www.privatecompanyindex.com).

The investment community has lacked business measurement tools to track activity for the businesses on Main Street. The Private Company Index (PCI) is a subset of companies which align across multiple regions and business sectors to offer the investment community a current measurement tool associated with private businesses. Entrex's newswire partner, PR Newswire, distributes the Entrex/PBC Index, along with Index Company News Stories, every month to Global Media Channels. Index Companies gain visibility and prestige they deserve with index exposure.

Founded in 2005, the PCI has tracked sales for this collection of private "blue chip" companies. In the most recent Entrex/PBC press release in January 2007, the PCI benchmark reached 722, an all-time high for the index.

Elko Products Company Inc. was highlighted as a PCI member company in the January press release, with a quote from Timothy G. Staub, Elko's President and Chief Executive Officer. "We're proud to be a member of the Private Company Index," said Mr. Staub. "It provides recognition for the contribution private companies like Elko make to the U.S. economy, and it underscores the investment opportunity in U.S. private equity."

Since 1983, Elko has manufactured and sold more than 25 million feet of gutter protection products on more than 250,000 homes across North America. For more information, visit Elko at www.elkoproducts.com.
